Product Inspection and Freight Claims

Legal title to merchandise passes to the buyer upon acceptance by the carrier. It is the customer's responsibility to inspect all skids, crates, a-frames, cartons (boxes), and packages at the time of delivery for damages, visible or concealed, or shortages regardless of condition. Upon delivery, all freight carriers are required to allow up to 30 minutes for the inspection of damage, both visible and concealed, or missing parts. If the driver will not wait for the inspection, write "REFUSAL OF INSPECTION" on all documents. Any damages, visible or concealed, that are found during the inspection must be noted by writing "DAMAGED" on the proof of delivery (PoD) slip and the driver's copy of the Bill of Lading (BoL), along with a clear description of the damage that has occurred. If there were freight damages, visible or concealed, it is the customer's responsibility to notify and submit a claim with the freight carrier within three (3) business days. All product is thoroughly inspected and free of defect before it leaves our factory; therefore, it is the buyer's responsibility to submit a claim and seek recourse against the carrier.
